JUDGE MASSEY IS FINED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

The first real bit of interest that has taken place in the State Bank case in several days in the district court before Judge Langan came to pass this morning.

During the review of evidence, Attorney Mack dug up the Keane-Wonder loan, Attorney Massey immediately objected. This led to a series of arguments on the part of the two attorneys. Massey had the complaint read and Mack stuck to his point. As the words were progressed the two attorneys waxed warmer. Judge Massey finally rose to his feet and striding over to Mack called that gentleman at the bar a damn liar, at the same time raising his hand in a threatening manner as if to slap Mack. Bailiff Ellis was between the two men in a moment and Judge Langan shouted for order, which was finally observed.

After the affair had cooled down the two attorneys kept edging back to the Keane-Wonder affair and in each instance Judge Langan warned them off the thin ice. It was only after threatening to send them both to jail for contempt that they managed to forget the bone of contention.

At the convening of the court in the afternoon session Judge Langan, who had been thinking the matter over, and who was rather warm in the collar himself, announced from the bench that Judge Massey would be compelled to pay a fine of $20 for contempt of court. The money was paid over to the clerk, who was told to hold the sum pending the judge's further disposition of the matter.—Carson Appeal.

A MINE IS NEVER FOUND.

A mine is never found. It is made. Surface bonanza is a rarity and after discovery a large amount of development work must be done, large sums expended in equipment, before it can maintain regular and profitable production; a large majority of the great mines of the country only reaching a production and paying basis after large sums have been devoted to development and exploratory work.

And, what others have done in successful mining operation, can be duplicated, can be done again; and this is one of the reasons why the mining industry is so fascinating, so attractive, as the records of the west show that new discoveries are also being made, any one of which are as ripe with promise as were the great producers of today when first discovered.

After the discovery of a promising aspect and these finds are continually being made in nearby as well as in distant camps and districts, the lucky man stands as good a chance to transform it into a real bonanza, a regular producer and a dividend payer, as was enjoyed by the discoverers of the grand old Comstock and other ancient Eldorado propositions of note. Opportunities of this character exist on every hand, and conditions are even now more favorable than they were a quarter of a century ago; and the industry has reached a stage of legitimacy that was thought to be impossible a generation or two ago.

IT MAY BE "GOLDIE" WANDERING AROUND

Appropos of the story of the party who were out searching for the remains of Frank Murphy, that they found traces of some individual wandering about the country in an aimless manner, it has been suggested that it might be "Goldie" Olcott, who made his way out of Goldfield last week after beating the Northern saloon of $1000 in markers.

On leaving Goldfield "Goldie" did not leave by any of the conventional routes, but is supposed to have taken one of the many trails that lead out of the town. Therefore, it is possible that he took the road leading toward Ellendale and Georges Canyon, intending to make for one of the camps in the eastern part of the state.

WANT TO SAVE MONEY.

The citizens of Carson City are petitioning Postmaster Hofer of that city to have a postal savings bank established there under the new law and Postmaster Hofer has stated that he will make application for such a bank and asks the citizens of Carson to also forward a petition to the postmaster general.

The Bonanza has the most complete ruling and binding plant in the state. Give us a trial!

HAD NARROW ESCAPES.

Frank Joanis, solicitor for the Southern Nevada Mercantile company, had a narrow escape from serious injury Thursday when the horse he was riding stumbled and fell with him. In extricating his leg, upon which the horse fell, Mr. Joanis badly lacerated that member, to such an extent that blood poisoning is feared. He is now confined to his home under the care of a physician.
